Suggested by the board and passed by the membership is the motion for a $100.00 fund available to the president to pay incidental expenses without calling all the board members.

A suggestion has been made to hold meetings every 2 months rather than every three months. After some discussion Suzanne Parker and Vickie Newhouse volunteered to formulate a questionnaire to be included in the next Newsletter.

Rachel reminds us that it will soon be time to form a nominating committee for Vice-pres. and secretary which will be elected next March.

It was voted to include a problem solving time during show and tell for members to bring up questions about their work.

Several visitors were introduced. Sue Waldron (Southern Oregon Historical Society) will be doing an article in their magazine on the subject of quilting- historically and at present.

Judy Kaplan wants the Guild to step up efforts in getting a major teacher here. She is willing to work on this project and will offer her assistance to Anita Ledwidge, program chair. There was enthusiasm among those present to pursue the effort. It was also mentioned that committee work pertaining to a speaker or workshop continues until the completion of the event.

The meeting was closed and refreshments were served..Piecemakers.

Marian Leman presented a very interesting program on border quilting designs using and adapting plastic stencils.
